

THE BODY REVEALS THE FRUITS OF THE SPIRIT

THE BODY REVEALS THE PERSON

Nyasha sees a hungry boy in the woods and offers him food.

Manyara sees a hungry boy in the woods and yells at him.

Nyasha sees a snake in her garden and thanks it for keeping other creatures away that would ruin her garden.

Manyara sees a snake and screams because she is afraid of it.

Nyasha's friend tries to get her to talk badly about her sister. Nyasha tells her friend that it is not nice to gossip.

Manyara's friend tries to get her to talk badly about her sister. Manyara gladly joins the gossip about Nyasha.

Nyasha goes to a store to buy some bread. The storekeeper says he is out of bread. Nyasha offers to help him make more bread.

Manyara goes to a store to buy some bread. The storekeeper says he is out of bread. Manyara is rude to the man and stomps out of the store.

There is one piece of chicken left for dinner. Although Nyasha is hungry, she offers it to her father.

There is one piece of chicken left for dinner. Although Manyara knows her father is hungry, she eats the food without offering to share it.

Nyasha was sitting under a shaded tree. She noticed an old woman who was tired from working in the field. Nyasha offers her shady spot to the woman.

Manyara was sitting under a shaded tree. She sees an old woman who was tired from working in the field. Manyara pretends not to notice the woman and does not offer her seat to her.